Greetings from Eve Bannerman and Don Secomb, your Co-ordinators for the Piano Section of the Taree Eisteddfod.

Please read the syllabus carefully but here are several things we'd like to bring to your attention:

*In Sections 130 to 134, Piano Solo from TV/Stage/Film, the music must have been specifically written for the TV show, stage work or film. This should be fairly easy to verify on the internet.

*We encourage you to support our newest sections introduced in 2017:

-Piano Ensemble, sections 158 to 163

-Set Work, section 171.

See notes on Guidelines Page 2 concerning Piano Ensemble and Set Work

Please encourage all your students, especially the beginners to enter this time round and to try playing in a few more sections. It is a great way to learn the art of performance and to help overcome the nerves. It also gives our young pianists a chance to hear a lot of new piano music and to see that many other children play the piano too.

If you need more copies of the syllabus please visit the website at www.tareeisteddfod.com.au. If that is not possible, or if you have any enquiries, please call Don Secomb.

AGE

Age for entries is taken at 1st January 2022

PAYMENT OF PRIZES

Winners of cash prizes will no longer be paid by cheque but by Direct Deposit to their bank account. Winners will be given a form to fill in with their bank details. This is then given to the Section Co-ordinator, before the winner leaves the theatre. These forms will be destroyed when payment is made.

ENTRY FEES Please note that the increases to our entry fees have been made necessary by the increases that we must pay to APRA for each piece that is performed in all of our musical sections.

Solo Performance	$12.50
Championship	$20.00

ENTRIES CLOSE SUNDAY 27 March at Midnight

OUT OF SESSION PLAYING

We understand that school activities such as excursions or exams can clash with eisteddfod events. In these situations a competitor may play at another time and receive an adjudicator's report but will not be eligible for awards. Arrangements will need to be made with co-ordinators before the commencement of the piano sections.

DONATIONS FOR AWARDS

Most of the money from entry fees goes towards the running of the Eisteddfod, e.g. hire of venue, employment of adjudicator. We ask you to consider donating an amount for awards in our Piano Sections. You may wish to choose a specific section or make a general contribution or think big and donate the prize money for a championship section. Please indicate your wishes on the entry form. All donations are greatly appreciated.

THE GRAND CONCERT

Selections of performers are made by the section co-ordinator and in some instances by the concert organiser, in collaboration with the co-ordinator.

Performers for the Grand Concerts are selected from:- Championship and Scholarship winners, multiple place winners, and other one-off high standard and entertaining performances to represent all disciplines of the Eisteddfod.

There is a maximum number of performers selected from each discipline, in order to keep each concert to 3 hours.

Maximum numbers may vary each year.

Performers chosen for the concerts should contact the concert organiser.

Sections 158 to 163 Piano Ensemble

In 2017 we introduced a revamped piano duet section named Piano Ensemble. This proved to be a great success with many entries being received. These sections will run again this year with the same format.

The sections are noncompetitive, have no entry fee and are extremely flexible in their structure. Basically it is a chance for one piano performer to play in ensemble with any other musician or musicians. Adjudicator reports for the performances will be available.

A few guidelines:

Enter one Performer.

Performer will play in an ensemble with a Partner or Partners. Partner/s don't need to be nominated on the entry form.

Partner/s may be of any age.

Partner/s may be any person including the Performer's teacher or parent.

Partner/s may play with more than one performer. This is especially for teachers who may want to partner several of their students.

The Ensemble may be:

Performer as one of the players in a piano duet or trio

Performer with one or more vocalists

Performer with one or more other instrumentalists

Section 171 Set Work

To mark our 50th Anniversary Year in 2017 we introduced a new special Section. This took the form of a set work. We commissioned Andrew Chubb to compose a new work for this section.

We are very grateful to Peter and Louise Rourke for providing the commission fee.

Andrew is a composer, performer and teacher based in Newcastle. As a boy growing up in Taree, he competed in this Eisteddfod over the course of many years.

Andrew has now completed his set of Five Waltzes all composed as part of the Taree Eisteddfod commission. The latest one is number 5 and will be available to us for the first time this year.

Everyone should enter under the one section number and entrants will be sorted into ages once entries have been collated.

For all details regarding the guidelines for this section, including difficulty level, and how to access the music, call Don Secomb on 0400 402090

We are very excited about both these new elements in our syllabus. Teachers and students have been enthusiastic about both sections.

We strongly urge teachers and students to please support us in this and give yourselves something new and different to work towards. Please feel free to ring Don if you have any enquiries at all about these new sections.
